

Today in Science, we set up our Decay experiment...

We chose six different foods: banana, cheese, avocado, milk, jam and bread. We added water to one sample and left the other alone. We sealed them in plastic bags and labelled them. Now we have to observe them each day.

What do you think will happen?

