Spreading rumours

Look at the posters from World War Two on the next slide.

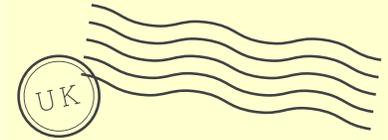

Think about the messages they are trying to send.

Can you create a slogan to communicate the importance of not spreading rumours about newcomers?

CARELESS TALK COSTS LIVES

There's often a listener

A black and white illustration of a bar scene. A man in a suit is reading a newspaper in the background. A woman in a dark dress is seated at the bar, looking towards a sailor in a uniform who is leaning over the bar. The sailor is holding a glass and appears to be in conversation with the woman. A sign on the wall behind them reads 'BEER ALES'.

SILENCE IS SAFETY

Never talk to anyone about sailing dates, cargoes, destinations.
