Year 6

English

Lesson 10

This icon means upload your task to the website.

Task one:

Recite your memorised poem to a member of your family.

I would love it if you could record yourself reciting your poem (audio only - mp3) and upload it with a picture of yourself.

After Easter, I'd like to post them all for everyone to enjoy!

Task two:

Redraft and edit your poem

Today you are going to complete your poem, redraft and edit it and finally, present it neatly on paper.

- You can either type this up or write it out.
- Decorate it with a border.
- Upload it to the website (If you have written it out, take a photo of it so that I can read it).

Reborn

Extension:

Here is my first draft.
Can you improve it?

Desolate streets deserted by humans
Explode with life:
Cherry blossom fireworks pop, whizz and zoom
Sharing their eagerness to bloom.
Young trees as silent as guards without words surround
a playground
of chatty songbirds.
An empty railway lined with budding leaves
snakes through the world
delivering people nowhere.
A red-bricked building boldly stands high staring at street-stragglers who dare to pass by.

Desolate streets startled by the prospect of rebirth.
